

December 2011

Christmas greetings to you dear friends,

Our little ministry with the big impact wants to thank you for being faithful in helping us bring the gospel of life for another year.

There is good news!! America is becoming more prolife, especially among our young people.

The Gallup Polls confirm this and we at Sohlnet see it as we travel from college campus to campus during our annual Spring and Fall Tours.

The students are approaching our displays, admitting they did not know, and changing their views for "choice" to life beginning at conception.

Students are confessing their past abortions, receiving Christ, counsel and prayer from our team, and beaming with joy after receiving the truth.

We are winning on the campuses, on the streets outside abortion clinics: on the sidewalks outside of high schools and training up youth for now and the future. Hallelujah!

Thanks for your fervent prayers and financial help. We need you and appreciate you very much.
